Mitchell Yell is the Fred and Francis Lester Palmetto Chaired Professor in Teacher Education and a Professor in Special Education in the College of Education at the University of South Carolina (USC) in Columbia, South Carolina.Â Â Prior to coming to the University of South Carolina, Dr. Yell was a special education teacher in Minnesota for 16 years.Â Â Dr. Yell has published 108 journal articles, 24 book chapters, and has conducted numerous workshops on many aspects of special education law, the education of students with emotional and behavioral disorders, and classroom management.Â Â He has written four textbooks, all published by Pearson/Merrill Education (The Law and Special Education, 4th edition; Evidence-Based Practices for Educating Students with Emotional and Behavioral Disorders, 2nd edition, No Child Left Behind: A Guide for Practitioners; and Teacher's Guide to Preventing Problem Behaviors in the Elementary Classroom).

Being charged so much for something that was ran through a copier and hole punched is outrageous.

The pages are see through and paper thin. Contacted Pearson and was told they are just cutting costs. The pages bent horribly bad in the binder too. The highlighter leaks through the pages. I would recommend professors finding a different textBOOK. As an educator, I would be embarrassed making my students pay for this. Go with the online version if possible!

One of the best textbooks I've ever seen. Very well laid out, clear and concise, and logical.

very thin book was quite shocked it was so expensive

The materials are very informative and helpful for my class I am taking in Special Education. Thank you.

Very informative!

Much information in this book. Very helpful.

This is a loose leaf text "book." I put the papers in a three ring binder. For $100, I was expecting an actual book with a hard cover. Nope. It was a required text book for a college course. It is a rather dry and boring read, but it contains the information needed about special education law.
