Customer Reviews

Heart warming true story. The circumstances and human kindness in this true story will make one realize how important each of us are for one another. This book is a detailed masterpiece taking the reader across the globe from USA to Mozambique. Inspiring! Must read!

A compelling story and a captivating read!

A well written and captivating read.

I have recently been viewing movies depicting true stories which have increased my appetite for history. I confess to being a bit lazy and haven't read a book in awhile, but this book was enticing to read as I was unable to set it aside to do much else. It is elaborate in characters and character, full of raw and rich emotion. My heart pounded many times as the descriptions of events became quite real to me. The intensity of these mens passion to provide for others is palpable. They have a style of writing quite entertaining and expression that is astoundingly simple yet deep. This book sets the stage for a grand movie which could alter the worlds awareness of great need and possibilities when we as individuals allow for boundary free imagination. I hope to hear about the accomplishments of HOW in the near future.

Florencia...wow. My review is not just about how good the book is, and it is compelling and well written but Florencia about all of us and how everything in our lives, every day, matters! Which one thing do we make a B-Line for and go do something about? The authors answered an extra call in helping Florencia become a new version of her already extraordinary self, so that she herself could be just many of the One who, like all of us, answered a call by loss and helped another. An extraordinary loss, that, like all of us, just make us more fascinating when we do not give up. When our stories, like John, like Douglas, like Florencia, like all of us, makes all of out stories so real but her incredible loss at such a young age, made a huge impact on her people. It makes this momentary suffering here on earth, just have a taste of Heaven delivered in the form of a leg. Well done y'all!
